

KALLANAI DAM

Kallanai (also known as the Grand Anicut) is an ancient dam built by King Karikalan of Chola dynasty in 150 CE. It is built across the Kaveri River flowing from Trichy to Thanjavur. Because of its spectacular architecture, it is one of the prime tourist spots in Tamil Nadu.

ROCKFORT TEMPLE

The most famous land mark of Tiruchirappalli is the Rockfort Temple. It is also called as Uchi Pillaiyar Kovil. It is in the heart of the city. This is a 275 ft. tall rock structure. It is reached by a step flight of 437 steps that cut into the rock. Halfway up is the sanctum of Sri Thayumanaswamy, dedicated to Lord Shiva. It has a 100 pillared hall, and a Vimana. There are inscription in this temple that date back to 3rd century B.C.

THIRUVANAIKAVAL JAMBUKESWARAR TEMPLE

This temple is one of the Pancha Bhootha Sthalas (five elements of nature) representing water. Hence this temple is also revered as "Appu Sthalam" and the Shivalingam here is called as "Appu Lingam". The Jambukeswarar - Akilandeswari temple is dedicated to Lord Shiva.

One of the uniqueness of this temple is, the Shiva Lingam in the Sanctum Sanctorum is reported to be submerged in the water that flows from a subterranean spring into the precinct.

SRIRANGAM RANGANATHAR TEMPLE

Srirangam is the foremost of the eight self-manifested shrines (Swayam Vyakta Kshetras) of Lord Vishnu. It is also considered the first & foremost and the most important of the 108 main Vishnu temples (Divyadesams).

SAMAYAPURAM AMMAN TEMPLE

Samayapuram is a famous pilgrimage shrine dedicated to Goddess Mariamman. In ancient period, this region was ruled by the Chola Kings. Samayapuram is also known by the names Kannanur, Kannapuram, Vikramapuram and Mahalipuram in ancient times.

SOUTH SHIRDI SAIBABA TEMPLE

Akkaraipatti Sai Baba Temple is one of the largest temples for Shirdi Sai Baba in Asia. It is consecrated near Samayapuram, Trichy. Variety of frescoes demonstrating the manifestation of Sai Baba is painted on the interior false ceiling of the temple which is simply stunning.
